

Short Bio

Mr. Dimitrios Goulias | Economic Analyst, SEVE | Head of IERS

---

Dimitris Goulias was born in Larisa, Greece in 1989 and was raised in Volos, Greece. Since 2017 he works as an Economic Analyst at the Greek Exporters Association-SEVE while being the Head of the Institute of Export Research and Studies-IERS, working on several projects regarding international business and global economy. In 2020, Dimitris alongside Mr. Dimitrios Lakasas co-wrote "Human 4.0", a book published by Klidarithmos Publishing in 2021 regarding Industry 4.0, which is considered as one of the ten most famous books in its category, based on Public Book Awards 2022. In addition, from 2012 to 2014, he participated as a Business Development Manager in a startup called "Autonomic", an educational app helping people with special needs to be autonomous and learn via the use of mobile tech, which won two international competitions. Dimitris holds a Bachelor in Economics (BSc) from University of Thessaly and a Master in International Business (MIB) from University of Macedonia, he is a Certified Project Manager, he speaks English and Italian and he has participated in several conferences and seminars on business, economy and technology.