

Rouska V. Bozhkova is a Chief Assistant Professor in the “Tourism” Department, Faculty of Economics, in the South-West University of “Neofit Rilski”, Blagoevgrad, Bulgaria. Her lectures are in the following disciplines: Tourism markets, Management of tourism attractions, Domestic and international tourism, Rural Tourism and Green Tourism. The monography “Rural tourism – interregional features” and the book “International Tourism” are used by the students of the department as a knowledge tool. Her scientific interest that can be seen by the articles and presentations in international conferences has to do with re-thinking the role of rural tourism, potentials for a sustainable transborder tourism in the area Bulgaria-Greece, the migration problem and its impact on the tourism destinations. From 2003 until today she participates as a researcher in numerous European Projects. She is a member of Athens Institute for Education and Research (ATINER).