

Antonios Katepodis, Minister Counselor for Economic & Commercial Affairs, Head of the Economic & Commercial Affairs Office in Belgrade

Antonios Katepodis was born in Athens. He graduated from the Department of Political Science and Public Administration of the Law School at the National and Kapodistrian University of Athens (EKPA). In 1990, he joined the Department of Economic and Commercial Affairs at the National School of Public Administration.

He has served at the Economic and Commercial Affairs Offices in Bucharest, Vienna, and London, as well as in various positions at the central services of the Ministries of National Economy and Foreign Affairs, with responsibilities focusing on the Balkans and China – Asian countries.

He has held the positions of Director of Directorate B8 for Business Development and Directorate B2 for Documentation & Quality Management at the Ministry of Foreign Affairs. He currently holds the rank of Minister Counselor for Economic & Commercial Affairs, Heading the Economic and Commercial Affairs Office in Belgrade.

He speaks English, French, and Romanian. Antonios Katepodis is married and has two children.